

For Immediate Release

Boston, MA September 1, 2010 Capacity Center today announced the launch of its new Open Season Alert service. The new service automatically sends subscribers an email notice each time a pipeline posts an open season system notice. The Open Season Alert service eliminates the need to constantly check multiple pipeline websites and helps shippers prevent missing important opportunities. For Capacity Center customers the company has decided not to charge any additional fees for this enhanced service.

“With all the expansions, extensions and new pipe activity occurring lately, the Open Season Alert service helps make sure our customers are aware of opportunities as well as their implications” said Paul Maffa, Capacity Center Sales Manager.

CapacityCenter.com operates the only 24 hour/365 day natural gas interstate pipeline data center. Our automated services monitor all capacity release offers, awards and system notices on sixty one US pipelines. That detailed information is downloaded to an easy to read spreadsheet and sent to our customers via email for trading, risk & regulatory compliance, deal origination and valuation purposes.
